We're thrilled you're thinking about supporting Third Wave with a party! This toolkit will help you create a fun and engaging event that introduces Third Wave to new supporters and increases Third Wave’s visibility in your community.

We encourage your creativity and resourcefulness in hosting a small or large party, which could take place in your home, office, restaurant, club, gallery or community center.

You don’t need fundraising or event experience to pull off a successful party. Third Wave Fund will provide you with fact sheets, donation/pledge cards, and any guidance you may need to make your event a success.

This event will rely on your initiative, networks, and creativity. It helps to have a vision for what you want your party to be. This includes:

• Thinking about what kind of event works best for you and who you want to invite;
• Identifying a space that matches the kind of event you want to host;
• Brainstorming creative ways to invite guests and promote the event;
• Calculating what the event will cost and deciding how to pay for those expenses. You can underwrite them, or ask colleagues/friends/restaurants to co-host or help you plan the logistics;
• Creating an achievable fundraising goal -- don’t worry, we can help!

Thank you for helping Third Wave grow. We can’t wait to hear your ideas!

House Party Kit Includes:

HELP THIRD WAVE FUND THRIVE BY HOSTING A HOUSE PARTY!

FORMAT

House party events can be as formal or as informal as you wish. They can serve as both a friendraiser and a fundraiser. Third Wave Fund is here to support you as a host, whether you want to throw a relaxed get-together, potluck, dance party or a more formal event designed for donors who can give at higher levels. Please contact Nicole Myles, our External Relations Associate, so we can work with you directly to plan and implement a fun and successful event.

One option that works well is a two-hour cocktail or dinner party... The important thing is to think about the kinds of events you and your friends actually like attending. Choose a venue where you and your guests will be most comfortable and that is easily accessible. This could be at your own home or apartment, or a meet-and-greet at your workplace. You can host the party alone or with a friend or group of friends - if your home is not large enough to host a house party, consider asking a friend who has a great space for a cocktail party to co-host it with you.

FUNDRAISING

Consider setting a fundraising goal for the event and announce it to guests when you ask for their support at the event. You might also want to have a computer out where folks can make donations online.

WHAT TO SERVE

Play to your strengths so that the event feels easy and simple for you as the host. If cooking stresses you out, don’t cook! If you are a foodie, go that route. If you have sober friends in your community, host a tea party. The idea is to make the work load easy, and make your guests feel comfortable.

WHO TO INVITE

Friends, family members, acquaintances - it’s up to you to decide. You can get invitations out through mail, email and/or social media, but keep track of who is coming so you know how many to prepare for. Consider sending personal invites and following up with people, it will dramatically increase attendance.

LOGISTICS

Think about what type of help you will need the day of and assign those tasks to friends. Maybe you’ll need one or two to serve as greeters to answer the door, take coats, make sure people sign in, and help collect donations. You may want someone to help with set up or clean up, etc.

Lastly, let us know about your event! We can send you the materials you need and if possible, we’ll have a Third Wave Fund representative attend to answer questions about our work, and to support you through the process.

SAMPLE TIMELINE

Six Weeks Out

- Decide upon format, place and time for your house party.
- Decide if you need or want a co-host(s).
- Let Third Wave Fund know about the event, so we can get you everything you need in the way of materials, and schedule a representative to speak at your event and support you throughout the evening, if we can.
- Consider if you need or would like food and/or beverage donations and reach out to potential donors. Sometimes businesses request a donation acknowledgement letter for their donated goods which we’re happy to provide.

Five Weeks Out

- Create your invitation mailing list.
- Create your party invitation.

Four Weeks Out

- E-Mail, send hard copy invitations, and/or post on social media.
- Reach out to restaurants, bakeries, etc, if seeking donated food and drinks. You can have luck with local shops and even bigger companies like Whole Foods or Trader Joe’s donate food for non-profit events. We’re happy to send you our tax-exempt letter if the business requests it.

Three Weeks Out

- Ask a friend or two to serve as greeters. They'll answer the door, take coats, make sure people sign in and help collect checks.

Two Weeks Out

- Call or email everyone who has not RSVP’d. Ask if they’re coming and keep a list of who is attending.

One Week Out

- Decide who will speak about Third Wave Fund.
- Review our website, thirdwavefund.org, and information packet so that you’re able to answer questions.
- Make sure you have all the materials you need from Third Wave Fund, including donor pledge forms.

Week of Event

- Remind greeters of their duties and the time they need to arrive.
- Purchase and prepare refreshments and/or arrange a time to pick up donations.
- Print enough sign-in sheets to accommodate your estimated number of guests.
- Consider whether you want music playing and create a playlist.
- Send a final short message to your invite list a couple of days before your event.
- Think through finishing touches: decide if you want your guests to wear name tags, introduce themselves in a go around, or answer an ice-breaker.

After the Event

- Please send the gifts collected and the sign-in sheet(s) to Third Wave Fund within 24 hours.
- Once Third Wave Fund receives the contributions, we will send your guests thank you letters.
- If you can, please send one yourself – an email or handwritten thank you note – to add a personal touch.
- Post event pictures on social media, send the link to everyone you invited and remind them that it’s not too late to donate or host a house party of their own.
- Pat yourself on the back and know how much we appreciate all the work you’ve done to raise critically needed funds for Third Wave Fund!
